Our Privacy Notice

Precision Castparts Corp. and its subsidiaries (the Company, we or us) operate our website and is the controller of any personal information collected. Where we acquire, process and store personal information from which individuals are identified or identifiable (Personal Data) relating to persons in the European Union we do so in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679.

What information do we collect?

We collect Personal Data from you when we communicate with you, or when you contact us, or fill out a form or request a quote on our website.

When completing the actions described above or other similar actions, as appropriate, you may be asked to provide your name, e-mail address, mailing address or phone number. Any information you choose to voluntarily submit to us, including via our website will be treated in accordance with this notice.

What do we use your information for?

Any of the information we collect from you is used to respond to your request, to manage and /or improve customer and business services and to administer and enhance our website operation. For example, when contacting us through a website, we may ask for your name, email address, or telephone number. We use that information to reply to your request and to route it to the appropriate persons within our organization so that we can better respond to you.

Our legal bases for processing such Personal Data are:

- necessity for the performance of a contract we may enter into with you, your employer or a party you are representing, or to take steps at your request prior to entering into it
- necessity for compliance with any legal obligation to which we are subject
- our legitimate interests in providing our customer, supplier, employee, former employee or other third party services, enhancing the operation of our website and marketing our own products and services to you
- your consent, (for example to engage in market research or pass your data to third parties for electronic marketing). Such consent may be withdrawn at any time, please contact us directly using the details provided below.

We will only retain your Personal Data for a period which is necessary for the purposes for which we acquired it or if longer, to the extent required by applicable law and regulation.

How do we protect your information?

We implement and maintain a variety of physical, technical and organisational security measures to protect the Personal Data you enter, submit, provide or we otherwise access against accidental, unlawful, or unauthorised destruction, loss, alteration, disclosure, or access.

However, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your Personal Data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our website and as such, any transmission is at your own risk.

Do we use cookies?

Yes (Cookies are small files that a site or its service provider transfers to your computer's hard drive through your Web browser (if you allow) that enables the sites or service providers systems to recognize your browser and capture and remember certain information

We use cookies to compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interaction so that we can offer better site experiences and tools in the future. We do not use cookies to obtain information about you personally.

If you live in the United Kingdom or European Union (EU), you will be asked prior to any cookie being set on your computer or device and notice will be given explaining what the cookie is used for. This additional step is required in order to comply with the EU Privacy Directive on Cookies. Because that directive is recently enacted and subject to some uncertainty regarding implementation, our policy regarding the use of cookies may also be subject to change for some or all EU visitors. Such changes will be described in this privacy notice as they are implemented.

Do we disclose any information to outside parties?

We do not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer to outside parties your personally identifiable information. This does not necessarily include trusted third parties who assist us in operating our website, conducting our business, or servicing you, so long as those parties agree to keep this information confidential. We may also release your information when we believe release is appropriate to comply with the law, enforce our policies, or protect ours or others rights, property, or safety. However, non-personally identifiable (anonymized) visitor information may be provided to other parties for marketing, advertising, or other uses.

Additional information for persons based in the United Kingdom or EU

Transfer of personal data outside the European Economic Area (EEA)
